Gospel Reflection

"DON'T JUST HAVE LAMPS, HAVE ENOUGH OIL."

My Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

One of the saddest experiences in life is to prepare for something important but discover, when the moment arrives, that we are not ready. Imagine a person invited to a wedding who dresses beautifully, buys a lovely gift and makes every preparation, but forgets the one thing necessary to participate in the celebration. In today's Gospel, Jesus concludes with a powerful warning: "Therefore, stay awake, because you know neither the day nor the hour." This parable reminds us that Christianity is not simply about belonging to a Church, attending Mass, wearing religious articles or knowing our prayers. It is about preparing our hearts every day for an encounter with God. The important question is not whether we have a lamp, but whether our lamps have enough oil.

The first reading from the Book of Wisdom tells us that wisdom is radiant and unfading; she is easily perceived by those who love her and found by those who seek her. Wisdom does not wait for us to discover her accidentally; she invites us to seek her. This is the wisdom that helps us distinguish between what is temporary and what is eternal, between what pleases the world and what pleases God. We may spend our lives gathering material possessions, pursuing positions, seeking recognition and struggling for earthly success, yet sometimes forget to prepare our souls for eternity. We may have money in our bank accounts but emptiness in our hearts; we may have beautiful houses but broken relationships; we may have successful careers but neglected spiritual lives. True wisdom, therefore, teaches us to put God first, to forgive those who hurt us, to love our neighbors, to care for the vulnerable and to live with integrity. The oil in our lamps is found in these daily acts of faith, prayer, charity, forgiveness and obedience to God's commandments. Let's not allow the busyness of life to extinguish the light of our relationship with God.

In the second reading, St. Paul addresses the fear and sorrow surrounding death. He encourages the Thessalonians not to grieve like those who have no hope, because we believe that Jesus died and rose again. St. Paul reminds us that our Christian hope is greater than the grave. The same Jesus who died and rose again will come to gather his faithful people to himself. However, this hope should not make us careless about how we live. Rather, it should inspire us to live each day meaningfully, knowing that our earthly journey is preparing us for eternal life. 'Make peace while you have time, love while you have the opportunity, forgive, and serve God faithfully while your hearts are still beating.' We should never postpone goodness until tomorrow, because tomorrow is not promised to anyone.

Do not wait until the bridegroom arrives before you begin to prepare your lamp. Parents, keep your lamps burning by raising your children in the fear of God. Young people keep your lamps burning by choosing what is right even when the world celebrates what is wrong. Married couples, keep your lamps burning through patience, fidelity, sacrifice and forgiveness. Priests and religious, keep your lamps burning through faithful service and genuine love for God's people. Workers, professionals and all who carry responsibilities keep your lamps burning through honesty, compassion and integrity. Even when life becomes difficult, when prayers seem unanswered, when suffering weighs heavily upon us and when God appears silent, do not allow your faith to go out. Remember that the five wise virgins could not borrow oil when the bridegroom arrived. There are things in our spiritual lives that nobody can do for us: nobody can repent on our behalf, nobody can love God on our behalf, and nobody can live our Christian vocation for us. Each of us must cultivate a personal relationship with Christ. May we never become Christians in name only, but people whose lives radiate the light of Christ. And when the Bridegroom finally comes, may he find our lamps burning brightly and welcome us into the eternal wedding feast of heaven. Amen.

Fr. Emmanuel Ogla, VC

St. Vincent de Paul

In today's Gospel, Jesus challenges us to "stay awake" by taking time to seriously look at ourselves, the priorities of our lives, and how we are growing spiritually. What would Jesus do?

This is a difficult time of year for many of our neighbors. Please consider helping us help others have a Thanksgiving meal with our Feeding Our Neighbors Together Food Drive by taking a decorated bag and filling it with the Thanksgiving food items listed.

Each of you are a blessing for your continued support of those in need.

The Gratitude Challenge

This is the time of year when we focus on being thankful for all the gifts in our lives and recognize that all good comes from God.

All are invited to try the Gratitude Challenge for the rest of November by taking time at the end of each day to write down 3 things for which you are grateful. You can do this individually, or as a family. The real challenge: You cannot repeat yourself! This may seem easy at first, but might require deeper reflection as the time goes on, especially on days when we are frustrated, ill, or over-scheduled.

This challenge helps prepare our hearts and minds for the upcoming season of Advent when we anticipate the greatest gift of all - Jesus Christ!

Reflexión sobre las Escrituras

«NO TE CONFORMES CON TENER LÁMPARAS, ASEGÚRATE DE TENER SUFICIENTE ACEITE».

Queridos hermanos y hermanas en Cristo,

Una de las experiencias más tristes de la vida es prepararse para algo importante y descubrir, cuando llega el momento, que no estamos preparados. Imagina a una persona invitada a una boda que se viste con elegancia, compra un regalo precioso y hace todos los preparativos, pero se olvida de lo único necesario para participar en la celebración. En el Evangelio de hoy, Jesús concluye con una advertencia contundente: «Por eso, estad despiertos, porque no sabéis ni el día ni la hora». Esta parábola nos recuerda que el cristianismo no consiste simplemente en pertenecer a una Iglesia, asistir a misa, llevar objetos religiosos o saber las oraciones. Se trata de preparar nuestro corazón cada día para el encuentro con Dios. La cuestión importante no es si tenemos una lámpara, sino si nuestras lámparas tienen suficiente aceite.

La primera lectura, tomada del Libro de la Sabiduría, nos dice que la sabiduría es radiante e imperecedera; quienes la aman la perciben fácilmente y quienes la buscan la encuentran. La sabiduría no espera a que la descubramos por casualidad; nos invita a buscarla. Esta es la sabiduría que nos ayuda a distinguir entre lo temporal y lo eterno, entre lo que agrada al mundo y lo que agrada a Dios. Podemos pasar la vida acumulando bienes materiales, persiguiendo cargos, buscando reconocimiento y luchando por el éxito terrenal, pero a veces nos olvidamos de preparar nuestras almas para la eternidad. Puede que tengamos dinero en nuestras cuentas bancarias, pero vacío en nuestros corazones; puede que tengamos casas preciosas, pero relaciones rotas; puede que tengamos carreras profesionales exitosas, pero vidas espirituales descuidadas. La verdadera sabiduría, por lo tanto, nos enseña a poner a Dios en primer lugar, a perdonar a quienes nos hacen daño, a amar a nuestro prójimo, a cuidar de los más vulnerables y a vivir con integridad. El aceite de nuestras lámparas se encuentra en estos actos cotidianos de fe, oración, caridad, perdón y obediencia a los mandamientos de Dios. No permitamos que el ajetreo de la vida apague la luz de nuestra relación con Dios.

En la segunda lectura, san Pablo aborda el miedo y la tristeza que rodean a la muerte. Anima a los tesalonicenses a no afligirse como quienes carecen de esperanza, porque creemos que Jesús murió y resucitó. San Pablo nos recuerda que nuestra esperanza cristiana es más grande que la muerte. El mismo Jesús que murió y resucitó vendrá a reunir a su pueblo fiel a su lado. Sin embargo, esta esperanza no debe hacernos descuidar la forma en que vivimos. Más bien, debería inspirarnos a vivir cada día con sentido, sabiendo que nuestro camino en la tierra nos está preparando para la vida eterna. «Haced la paz mientras tengáis tiempo, amad mientras tengáis la oportunidad, perdonad y servid a Dios fielmente mientras vuestros corazones sigan latiendo». Nunca deberíamos posponer la bondad hasta mañana, porque el mañana no está prometido a nadie.

No esperéis a que llegue el Esposo para empezar a preparar vuestra lámpara. Padres, mantened encendidas vuestras lámparas educando a vuestros hijos en el temor de Dios. Jóvenes, mantened encendidas vuestras lámparas eligiendo lo que es correcto, incluso cuando el mundo alabe lo que está mal. Matrimonios, mantened encendidas vuestras lámparas mediante la paciencia, la fidelidad, el sacrificio y el perdón. Sacerdotes y religiosos, mantened encendidas vuestras lámparas mediante el servicio fiel y el amor sincero al pueblo de Dios. Trabajadores, profesionales y todos aquellos que asumís responsabilidades: mantened encendidas vuestras lámparas mediante la honestidad, la compasión y la integridad. Incluso cuando la vida se complique, cuando las oraciones parezcan no ser escuchadas, cuando el sufrimiento nos agobie y cuando Dios parezca guardar silencio, no dejéis que se apague vuestra fe. Recordad que las cinco vírgenes prudentes no pudieron pedir aceite prestado cuando llegó el novio. Hay cosas en nuestra vida espiritual que nadie puede hacer por nosotros: nadie puede arrepentirse en nuestro nombre, nadie puede amar a Dios en nuestro nombre y nadie puede vivir nuestra vocación cristiana por nosotros. Cada uno de nosotros debe cultivar una relación personal con Cristo. Que nunca seamos cristianos solo de nombre, sino personas cuyas vidas irradien la luz de Cristo. Y cuando el Esposo venga por fin, que encuentre nuestras lámparas encendidas y nos acoja en el banquete nupcial eterno del cielo. Amén.

Fr. Emmanuel Ogla, VC

A Note From The SJB Principal

Dear St. Benedict Parishioners,

Our annual Open House is upon us! This is our time to showcase our beautiful campus and all the reasons SJB is a National and State Blue Ribbon School. Please join us this Wednesday, Veterans Day, for our Veterans Ceremony at 8 am in the Jr. High courtyard, followed by Open House from 8:30–11 am. Come see what all the excitement is about — all families are warmly welcome!

Also, thank you for joining us at our recent Harvest Fest! We're sending heartfelt thanks to our incredible Harvest Fest Co-Chairs and committee members, as well as St. Benedict parishioners and ministry leaders for their hard work and creativity, which brought so much joy to our SJB community. Last, but not least, thank you to the Knights of Columbus and KofC Auxiliary for cooking up such scrumptious burgers for our festival-goers!

A special shout-out to all of our parent volunteers who donated their time and energy to help make the day such a success — we couldn't have done it without you! And an extra big thank you to our amazing SJB Facilities Team for going above and beyond with setup and teardown — your extra hours truly made a difference.

Joyful Blessings,
Jamie Bescak, M.Ed., Principal
